

Corrections to First Aid Q&A for the USMLE Step 2

The following is the official up-to-date list of errata for the first edition of First Aid Q&A for the USMLE Step 2 CK. This list does not include suggestions/additions submitted and accepted for the next edition of the text.

The First Aid/USMLE Rx team
4/30//2008

1. Page 7
  - a. Question 13: The patient's sodium level should be 134 mEq/L, rather than 34 mEq/L.
  - b. Question 14: The patient's glucose level should be 133 mg/dL, rather than 33 mg/dL.
2. Page 17
  - a. Question 50: The question should read, "What is the reasoning behind avoiding nonselective  $\beta$ -blockers in this patient?"
3. Page 41
  - a. Question 50: The third sentence should start, "Nonselective  $\beta$ -adrenergic blockade..."
4. Page 139
  - a. Question 36: The newborn is a boy, not a girl.
5. Page 169
  - a. Question 14: The third sentence should read, "Pathologic examination reveals a population of atypical mononuclear cells infiltrating the dermis and epidermis."
6. Page 187
  - a. Question 14: CTCL is a B-lymphocyte (rather than a T-lymphocyte) lymphoma and involves B (rather than T) lymphocytes.
7. Page 486
  - a. Answers 45 and 46: The correct answers should be switched, K is correct for answer 45 and D is correct for answer 46.